Frederick University and Chevron Women in STEM Scholarships for the academic year 2022-23

Frederick University and Chevron, as part of their policy to promote gender equality and encourage girls and women to pursue studies and professional careers in STEM fields, jointly offer FOUR (4) Full Scholarships to female students who will enrol in any of the undergraduate programs of study of Frederick University's School of Engineering in the academic year 2022-23.

The scholarships will be awarded based on socio-economic criteria and the academic performance of the candidates in secondary education.

Interested applicants are encouraged to go through the announcement and specifically the terms and conditions to ensure they fulfil the eligibility criteria before applying.

For further information and clarifications, applicants can contact the Admissions Office at info@frederick.ac.cy or at 22394394 (Nicosia), 25730975 (Limassol).

SCHOLARSHIPS

For the academic year 2022-23 four (4) full scholarships will be awarded to new female students who will enrol in any of the undergraduate programs of study of Frederick University's School of Engineering. The scholarships cover 100% of the tuition fees and apply to the first academic year with the possibility of renewal, based on the academic performance of the student at the University.

RENEWAL CRITERIA

Following the completion of the academic year 2022-23, the scholarship will be renewed per semester based on the student's Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) during the previous semester as per the following table:

FREDERICK UNIVERSITY CGPA	Scholarship Percentage
09.00-10.00	100%
08.00-08.99	80%
07.00-07.99	60%
06.00-06.99	40%
05.00-05.99	20%
Below 5:00	not eligible for scholarship
